A little bit about yourself

I love IT. I love to work. I love interesting and creative work. IT – in my understanding – is also creativity, which is based on erudition, a technical mindset, the ability to think extraordinary and creatively, is the ability to find different ways to solve a problem, the ability to find different ways to achieve the desired result – and all this for the sake of conquering the final effective goal!

I really love this kind of work and always immerse myself in it completely and without a trace.

I love to draw, I love sports, I love box, I love to play chess, I love to read books and I really like to just communicate with people on various topics.
